50X1-HUM

1. Probably as of 1 May 1943¹ new regulations concerning the personal documents of Czechoslovak citizens traveling abroad were introduced in Czechoslovakia.
2. Any person belonging to the military reserve is obliged, prior to his departure, to turn in his service book (vojenská knížka) to his local replacement command (doplňovací velitelství) which issues to him a certificate stating that the service book has been duly turned in. He takes this certificate to the District Public Security Department (Okresní oddělení veřejné bezpečnosti) of the district involved, where he deposits it together with his Citizen's Identity Paper (Občanský průkaz).
3. Upon return to Czechoslovakia the procedure is inverse. The person involved receives his Identity Paper and the mentioned certificate at the District Public Security Department and the local replacement command returns the service book upon handing over the certificate.
4. It is in no case allowed to carry the above documents abroad.
